

Bald Hill Hike July 6, 2019 trip report

It was a beautiful day for a hike. With everyone assembled shortly after 10 a.m. we had 11 Wilderness Club members plus we adopted 3 young ladies looking for the way to Bald Hill.

Dave, Kelly, Michelle & Kelsey, Cathy, Aaron, Judy & Bert, Ed, Olwen & James, plus the 3 extras headed off for the 6 km hike to Bald Hill down the south section of the Reeve's Ravine Trail. We arrived at Bald Hill around noon, just in time for lunch and refreshments while enjoying the beautiful view from the hill. There were the most people we have ever seen on top of Bald Hill, one group of about 12 plus another group of two were with us on the hill. After some visiting and the checking of a geocache we started the trip back. We did the return trip the long way, down the Bald Hill Trail and then onto Reeve's Ravine Connector Trail. Total hiking distance was 14 km. We shared some lemonade and cookies before heading home. The treats for the day were that there was only 1 wood tick found and only 2 mosquito bites reported. No reports of poison ivy... yet!

A few of us accepted Ed's invitation and stopped on the way home for refreshments at their cottage in the backwoods.
