

SPRUCEWOODS - Saturday February 26

Andree and Di had a wonderful ski on the Eppinette trail in Sprucewoods.

The trail had been tracked the day before. Unfortunately, it was quite soft and the deer had sabotaged a lot of it. It was obviously much easier for them to follow the ski trail than trudge through the deep snow beside it! I guess we were on their territory - so that's how it goes.

It was a beautiful day and perfect skiing weather. We had a great 8.2km ski to cabin 3, where we had a little break in the sun - it was gorgeous! It was another 8km ski back on the other side of the loop. The hills were fun - and no crashes to report!

We had the trail to ourselves, apart from some deer. By the time we reached the parking lot - there were lots of people starting out. Some with packs, others hauling sleds - and others already on the trail.

Thanks for a great day!
