

Seton Trails Hike - April 13, 2024

On April 13th at 11am, Kari, Krystal, Jolene, Steffany, Lori, Kevin, and Dennis began hiking part of the Seton Trails (Sandhill Stag and Sleeping Wolf for a total of 10 km). This time of year when many trails are not in the greatest condition, the trails in Spruce Woods are a great choice! With many open sections and sandy land, this helps melt the snow and the land dries up fast. There was only a skiff of snow here and there. For the most part, it was completely dry!

Most of the group hiked around 8 km before meeting up with the rest of the group at the cabin. There, everyone enjoyed their lunches while visiting.

On the hike, some of the wildlife encountered included sandhill cranes, grouse, chipmunks, squirrels, and butterflies. A high of 22 degrees Celsius was reached - perfect hiking weather! The group parted ways at 2:30pm to enjoy the rest of their days and beautiful weather.
